

PRAYER

- opens the door, but you still have to walk through it.
- activates the power, but action applies it.

PRAYER

“Heavenly Father, We come before You with reverence and humility, recognizing that You are a God of order, not confusion (1 Corinthians 14:33). From the very beginning in Genesis 1, You showed us that everything You do is intentional, structured, and full of purpose.

You brought light before life, space before seed, and rest after work — teaching us that Your power flows through divine order.

Lord, forgive us where we've allowed chaos, disobedience, or pride to disrupt that order. Just like Adam and Eve, we acknowledge the consequences of stepping outside of Your structure. But today, we turn our hearts back to You.

Help us to submit to Your authority above all else, making You the foundation of every plan, program, and decision (Matthew 6:33). Teach us to honor the roles You've established in our families, our ministries, and our leadership — knowing that peace thrives where roles are respected (1 Corinthians 14:40).

Reorder our priorities, Lord. Show us what needs to be removed and what must be realigned so that we are led by Your Spirit, not our schedules. Convict us to repent of every area of disorder — personally and collectively — and fill those places with Your presence (1 John 1:9).

Help us to steward our time wisely — to not waste another hour on distractions or division, but to number our days and walk in wisdom (Psalm 90:12). Align our finances with Your will, that we may be faithful over little and trusted with more (Luke 16:10).

And finally, Lord, give us one heart and one vision, that as a church we may run with clarity, power, and unity (Habakkuk 2:2).

We commit to building our lives and this ministry decently and in order (1 Corinthians 14:40), so that Your glory can dwell fully among us. In Jesus' mighty name, Amen.
